

Accession Number: -Z00052

Scientific Name: -*Notopterus notopterus

Family: Notopteridae

Common Name: Bronze featherback

Physical Characteristics:

Elongated and laterally compressed cylindrical bodies with a distinctively long anal fin that extends almost the entire length of the body. They have a bronze to brownish colouration on the upper body, which fades to a lighter shade on the lower body.

Geographical Distribution:

Southeast Asia, particularly in countries such as Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand, Myanmar, and Cambodia.

Economic Importance:

It holds cultural and Economic importance as a food source and may offer economic opportunities for aquaculture development and local fisheries. Conservation efforts are essential to sustain wild populations amid increasing environmental pressures. Conservation efforts are necessary to ensure the sustainability of its populations amid growing ecological pressures.

